Delivering Your Gift To The World

A new workshop with Dr. Rick Moss and Carol Costello

Rick Moss Ph.D.

Carol Costello

There is within you a unique self. There is and there will never be anyone just like you. You possess insights, wisdom, qualities, and abilities in a unique arrangement that is your gift to the world. And unless you express and deliver your gift to the world, it may be difficult to feel fully satisfied. It may feel as if you haven't realized your potential and your success is incomplete.

Delivering Your Gift to the World

Your conscious mind says, “I should be out there promoting myself”. The subconscious says, “I might fail or get rejected, let’s sleep, get something to eat or play a computer game.”

Your conscious mind says, “I should let that person know about my business.”

Your heart starts to contract, your stomach goes into your throat and your subconscious is saying, “No one loves me and I’m nothing special”.

There is within you a unique self. There is and there will never be anyone just like you. You possess insights, wisdom, qualities, and abilities in a unique arrangement that is your gift to the world. And unless you express and deliver your gift to the world, it may be difficult to feel fully satisfied. It may feel as if you haven’t realized your potential and your success is incomplete.

- Live more of your Greatness
- Make a clear path for your intention
